

I'd Rather Fight than Switch

I've been in this battle for some time and I'm not going away.

My allegiance will not diminish, my stance will be bold and not sway.

I am a prized soldier defending the front line.
By God's grace the muscles I bear have become quite defined.

Not at all perfect but as handsome as I can be.
I've become a warrior by letting Him have control of me.

"I'd rather fight than switch" these words to me will always be true,
even when the horizon seems treacherous and the sky is dark ash instead of blue.

Armed, prepared, standing tall and valiantly,
my confidence is in Jesus as He's promised victory.

I'm ready to fight and win and I'll never switch... with pleasure I stand at the frontline to place the enemy in his ditch.

I'm no stranger to sweat and the taste of blood isn't foreign to me.
With the faith I have in His Word I'm claiming my territory.

I was sent to fulfill a task and from this obligation I will not sway.
My mission won't be complete until the souls I'm assigned have entered Heaven's way.

I'd rather fight than switch for I know I have the victory.
I'd rather fight than switch. I'll fight until my eternal Jubilee.

Poem by Alicia Hill-Thompson visit www.YouShallPrevail.com for more Christian encouragement

Provided by The Gospel Lighthouse Church

6050 S. Pecos Rd. Las Vegas, NV. 89120

702-258-1258

www.VegasRevival.com